LICENSE & PRINTING GUIDE

License & Printing Guide

Denise, MS, OTR/L · Occupational Therapist

1 Clinician Toolkit

One clinician may use these professional topic references. They support clinical reasoning and are not complete intervention protocols or ready-to-use home exercise prescriptions. A clinician may print selected pages for direct education only when the content is appropriate and explained with the individual care plan.

2 Standalone Caregiver Toolkit

Licensed to one purchaser or household for personal caregiving use and reasonable printing. Distribution to unrelated households requires additional permission unless the bundle clinician printing permission below applies.

3 Stroke Recovery Bundle

One clinician license and one household caregiver license. A clinician purchaser may also print caregiver pages for that clinician's own direct patients and caregivers. Paper copies only; this does not authorize digital forwarding, shared drives, coworker sharing or department-wide use.

4 Complimentary Resources

Clinicians may print appropriate free caregiver education for their direct patients. Direct other recipients to OT Practical Guide to obtain their own digital copies.

5 Sharing Restrictions

Do not forward digital files, upload to shared drives, post online, resell or incorporate into another product or course. Each clinician requires an authorized license.

6 Printing and Educational Use

Print on US Letter paper. Use Actual Size or Fit to Printable Area; check a test page. Grayscale printing is suitable. Resources do not replace evaluation, medical advice, clinical judgment, emergency care or hands-on training. Images illustrate settings, not handling techniques.
